

Copyright Licence for Engineering Firms

In the engineering industry – where exchanging information about technological, construction and research advances is critical – it's easy to breach copyright laws by inadvertently copying and sharing content without permission.

Most literary works are covered by copyright. If your employees copy and share text, tables, graphs or images that were created by others, they'll usually need permission from the copyright owner to do so. This includes content from:

- Journal articles
- Industry data and papers
- Newspaper and magazine articles.

Our Copyright Licence for Engineering Firms gives your employees the freedom to legally copy and share third party literary content. As we pay royalties to the creators whose works you reuse, you'll foster the creation of new content which will benefit your organisation in the future.

COPYRIGHTAGENCY

We represent 37,000 members across the publishing, media, visual arts, education and surveying sectors. We license copyright material, so companies can legally reuse content created by others, and be confident that creators are being compensated fairly for their work - thus practising Good Copyright Governance. Licensing revenue is distributed to our members, ensuring the Australian creative economy remains strong.

Copy and share global content

Specifically tailored to your industry, our Copyright Licence for Engineering Firms gives you the right to copy and share hard copy and digital content*, including:

- Key engineering journals from publishers such as ASCE, ICE, Geological Society Publishing House and Canadian Science Publishing
- Newspapers and magazines from around the world
- Plus graphs, tables, research papers, market research data, competitive analysis and more.*

Key benefits to your business

Speed and efficiency

Enjoy a fast and unencumbered flow of information

Ease of use

One licence covers copyright material from millions of sources

Peace of mind

All of your employees can legally reuse our members' content*

Collaboration

Email articles to regulatory authorities, patent application and legal proceedings

Learning and innovation

Create a culture that allows employees to share material freely

“Our licence really assists with the workflow, because we are assured that we simply can proceed with sharing information freely, at the same time knowing we are doing the right thing by the creators of the articles or other material.”

Sue Godwin

Knowledge Services Coordinator, Research, Library and Information Services, GHD

Establish a world-best business practice

Your licence:

- Covers your entire organisation for internal use, emailing articles to regulatory authorities, patent application and legal proceedings, and more. You can also cover multinational employees, and the sharing of selected content on external websites.
- Saves you from having to negotiate licence fees with individual copyright owners. One annual licence fee allows your employees to copy and share content from millions of sources.
- Allows reuse of Australian content. The licences held by international parent companies do not cover all Australian content.
- Reduces your risk of being brought into a copyright dispute. Protect your reputation and avoid potential litigation expenses.
- Offers a fair fee structure. Our fee is tailored to your company and is based on the number of employees, and the rights your organisation requires.

*Terms, conditions, limits and exclusions apply.

This fact sheet is a guide only. Refer to the licence agreement for full terms and conditions. For independent information on copyright please visit the Australian Copyright Council website www.copyright.org.au

Getting your licence is easy

Contact us to discuss your licensing options and obtain a customised quote.

Commercial Licensing
02 9394 7600
licence.enquiries@copyright.com.au

Level 12, 66 Goulburn Street
Sydney NSW 2000
www.copyright.com.au

COPYRIGHTAGENCY